Parsons School of Design, New York, NY

Summary

Graphic designer skilled in grid layouts, type design, logo design, branding, and illustration. Passionate about using design as a tool for comprehensive storytelling and strategy. Seeking opportunities to join a business that values deliberate, purpose-driven output.

Experience

Freelance

2016–Present

Managed the complete design pipeline for a diverse clientele, spanning initial concept development, iterative feedback cycles, and final file preparation for production across various mediums, including editorial layouts, brand assets, clothing graphics, and product packaging.

Lettuce Print

2024–2025/New York

Created social media posts, email blast content, digital advertisements, and printed deliverables for various dispensaries. Executed all projects within strict brand style guides and incorporated feedback from the art director and clients to deliver high-quality, on-brand marketing collateral.

Cookies Enterprises

2020–2021/Bay Area

Designed main brand packaging and spearheaded design/art direction for a new sub-label's visual strategy. Conceptualized a detailed encyclopedia-style volume intended to catalog the brand's exclusive cultivars.
